My Submission

The idea that the BUN scheme is going to save the Condamine Alluvium is a load of bullshit.

There is no conclusive science, it's a guessing game and it's just common sense.

No amount of so-called science will cover up the fact that Condamine Alluvium, Springbok, and Walloon Coal Measures, etc, is screwed thanks to the decision making of the Queensland Government who approved the project based on whimsical & flimsy science.

Wake up & admit the Queensland Government has totally screwed up! And stop hiding behind this whimsical & flimsy science to cover up your tainted decision making.

In past submissions I have tried to present facts backed up with concrete references, in a professional manner, whilst taking valuable time to do so, in place of my daily job.

It appears it doesn't make a difference to the Queensland Government when doing so - as you are yet to refuse a RIDA or enforce the RPI Act.

So this time I will ask you to take a common sense & logical approach. It's not rocket science if you think for a minute about it.

Think about it, when you deplete an aquifer, how do you make good or replenish an aquifer???? How do you expect a farmer to restore farmland that has subsided/lost water, to its original pre activity condition? Are you using some 'magic carpet formula' that you are withholding from us? Do you have an ace up your sleeve? Clearly you know more about farming than the actual landowner.

The unlawful activity is still continuing without RIDAS across the Condamine Floodplain in complete disregard of the RPI Act 2014 which you were elected to administer without fear or favor.

NO COAL SEAM GAS INDUSTRY SHOULD EXIST WITH FARMING IN PRIORITY AGRICULTURAL AREAS.

This RIDA clearly should be refused.

Please analyse my submission seriously and carefully - perhaps this is the one (of many submissions) which register with the Queensland Government.

WHERE IS THE COMPENSATION AND RESOURCES FOR THE SERIOUSLY IMPACTED KUPUNN FARMERS FOR LOSS OF BUSINESS/CAPITAL?

Food for thought: How do you envision this compensation restoring farmland to its original condition when subsidence is predicted to continue until at least 2055? And this is a conservative estimate I would imagine based on the evolving whimsical & flimsy science thanks to adaptive management, a very convenient tool - just not convenient for farmers apparently.

Thank-you.
Have a lovely day.

PS: I've attached some horrifying figures that have been realised which demonstrate water and gas extraction figures only for a six month period for high producing wells (thumpers). You might need a PHD to read these, but we have managed without, as we have spent copious amounts of time, for the last 6 years, understanding the intricate implications of this terrible activity - which is destroying our lives. Just remember, this is private freehold property and the Queensland Government does not own it, despite you acting so. Perhaps from this small paragraph you can understand our disgust and anger.
